Manufacturers Say They Can Get MAY SUCCEED BISHOP BROOKS. Plenty of Men.

Nearly one thousand garment cutters are gathered in Beethoven Hall, Fifth street, near the Bowery, to discuss the plans in conction with the present lockout ty the Manulacturers' Association.

The meeting was presided over by President Benjamin Zacharia, of the United Garment Workers, and was addre sellty John B. Lengon, General Secretary of Journeymen Tailors and Grand Treasurer of the rederation of Labor.

In Horence Hall, Flist street and Second avenue, an opposition meeting of the Knights of Labor is going on; and every inthat acore, for my part, I have nothing to say.

Knights of Labor is going on; and every indication points towards a continuation of sitter hostilities between these two labor organizations.

"We don't need the Knights in our present struggle against capital," said serviary Harry White, or Garment Cutters Union No.

"We have the assurance of co-operation from the Bro herhood of Tailors, the Overscat and Sackcoat Makers, the Journe men Tailors, the Cloakmakers and the opera ors and tailors of Brooking, representing in all about 10,000 men, who at the meeting of the Trades connellines Saturday virtually promised to nell last Saturday virtually | romised to

JAMES PITZPATRICK

He was born in New York City in 1838 and was graduated from the New York public schools. When quite a boy he went as an apprentice to the firm of Herring & Floyd, iron founders, where, after serving his apprenticeship, he remained about ten years working at his trade. At that time he had become forgman of the shop through his skill as a workman and executive ability in the management of men. He belonged to old Engine Company No. 34, of the Volunteer Fire Department, which had the credit of furnishing more politicians than any other branch of the public service.

At the breaking out of the war Mr. Fitzpatrick enlisted for three months in the Twelfth New York Regiment, and served that time with it as a private soldier. At the expiration of his three months' service he enlisted in the navy for three years, which term he served, being promoted to the rank of quartermaster.

with one vacant seat in the jury-box. Fleven jurors had been accepted and sworn when the court adjourned on Friday night, and it was certain that the twelfth juro would be found to-day and the actual trial begin with an opening address by Assistant District-Attorney Osborne, in which the charge against Buchanan and the plan of the attack would be outlined. There was, therefore, a large gathering of spectators in court, and one of the most in-terested of these was Nev. Howard Duffeld, of the Prespyterian Church, Fifth avenue and Eleventh street, who sat beside the

New York, and they consist in the making, by him, of certain false entries with intent to deceive.

"Such acts are offences against the banking laws of the United States, which delare that every officer who makes any false entry with intent to defraud, shall be deemed guilty of intent to defraud, shall be deemed guilty of intent to defraud, shall be deemed not less than five years nore more than ten. The conclusion seems to be inevitable that the orbided, are exclusively cognizable by the dieted, are exclusively cognizable by the United States.

It is proper to say that if any serious doubt we're entertained as to the want of jurisdiction of the Court of General Sessions and its consequent want of authority to retain the petitioner in customy, such a disposition to the petitioner in customy, such a petitioner in customy, such a disposition to the petitioner

Assistant District - Attorney Macdona, see aking for District - Attorney Nicoli, said in regard to Chief dustice Wallace's decision:

"That is all right so lar as it goes. He has decided against us in the matter of those nive indictments, but the opinion, in so far as it appertains to the sixth indictment for forgery in the second degree and under which End is now out on $20,000 call, does not affect it at all. To our minds in the District Attorney's office, we are still right and we confidently expect a conviction under it."
